3 If your parents' or your own marital status has changed because of separation, divorce or death, please describe that change below and attach documentation to verify the change (i.e. divorce decree, death certificate, etc.)

4 If you or your family had extraordinary medical expenses in 2022 or 2023, state the actual amount of unreimbursed medical expenses (including your family's portion of insurance premiums) that was paid for all family members in 2022 or 2023, and attach documentation that verifies your statement. If you or your family will have extraordinary medical expenses in 2024, estimate the total unreimbursed medical expenses (including your family's portion of insurance premiums) that will be paid for all family members, and attach documentation that verifies your estimate.

Actual 2023 unreimbursed medical expenses $ _____

Estimated 2024 unreimbursed medical expenses $ _____

5 Explain the nature of extraordinary medical expenses

6 If your parents have unusually high living expenses or debts, provide a brief explanation and attach a breakdown of their monthly expenses. Indicate how they are currently meeting their financial obligations. (Expenses for consumer debts generally cannot be allowed in the calculation of financial aid eligibility.)

7 If you are appealing based on a reduction of income please explain the reason for your reduced income. Do not leave this question blank.

8 If your or your parents' 2023 income or expected 2024 income will be lower than it was in 2022, fill out the chart below. Do not leave any lines blank. Enter "0" if appropriate. If we are able to change your award based on estimated income, we will request verification of your 2022 income. At that point, we may revise your award based on the accuracy of your 2023 or 2024 estimates.
